Agreement on the Usage of Cadence Software at IAIK

The Institute for Applied Information Processing & Communications provides student accounts with access to software of Cadence Design Systems Limited (Cadence). The following regulations apply for the usage of this software:

- The software must not be used for any other purpose than completing a course or seminar of IAIK. In particular, the software must not be used for commercial purposes. Also no results of courses or seminars may be used for commercial purposes.

- The user of the accounts needs to make sure that no other person has access to his/her account. Any transfer of access to any of the provided resources to third parties is at any time strictly prohibited.

- No technology data or software may be copied from the IAIK network to any other device.

By signing this document, the signer declares that the document was read and understood, and agrees to conform according to the regulations stated above.

Last Name: _____   First Name: _____

Matriculation Number: _____   E-Mail: _____

Graz, _____   Signature: _____